Integral Awarded Best e-FX Distribution Platform by FXWeek

PALO ALTO, Calif. (July 10, 2017) — Integral (www.integral.com), the technology partner trusted by leading banks, brokers, and asset managers to help them outperform their competition in the foreign exchange market, has today received the Best e-FX Distribution Platform award from FXWeek, the premier publication for global currency markets.

Integral BankFX is the most comprehensive distribution platform, enabling banks to service the widest variety of customers wherever and whenever they trade. Bank e-FX teams can source the liquidity from every available source, price every type of FX product, and distribute those prices directly via custom GUI, API, or multi-bank platforms including FXAll, 360T, and Bloomberg. All this without upfront costs, development time or project risks. This powerful cloud-based platform is the industry's only answer for FX institutions wanting to design and deliver complete solutions tailored to their businesses.

“We are honored that for the second consecutive year Integral has received the prestigious FXWeek award,” said Harpal Sandhu, CEO, Integral. “Integral won the Best e-FX Distribution Platform because BankFX allows every bank regardless of size, reach, or budget to compete and win against any and all competitors in the most challenging markets.”

As of 2017, over 60 leading banks price over 25,000 global end-users, including corporates, smaller banks, private banks, margin brokers, and prime-of-prime brokers. These e-FX deployments operate in complete compliance with the recently introduced FX global code of conduct and are able to support their upcoming MiFID II requirements.
