Integral Begins Year with an Increase in Volumes of 1% Compared to January 2018

Average daily volumes (ADV) totaled $ 34.7 billion

PALO ALTO, California (February 5, 2019) – Integral (www.integral.com), the technology partner trusted by leading banks, brokers, and asset managers to help them outperform their competition in the foreign exchange market, reported today average daily volumes (ADV) across Integral platforms totaled $34.7 billion in January 2019. Though down slightly compared to the previous month, this represents an increase of 1% relative to the same period in 2018.

“We’re committed to supporting our customers as they continue to capture share in their very competitive markets,” said Harpal Sandhu, CEO of Integral. “Integral’s leading-edge technology gives our customers an advantage that they are successfully leveraging.”

No other platform reaches as many, as varied, and as comprehensive a set of FX products and participants as Integral OCX™. Banks, brokers, and asset managers now share direct access to OCX and use this unique liquidity to win market share from their competitors.

OCX is directly cross connected with more than 250 liquidity sources supplying more than 3,000 market making streams in NY4, LD4, and TY3. OCX’s award-winning advanced market design delivers the ultimate in execution performance by combining resting limit orders, market-making streams, and midpoint interest in a single integrated high-performance venue.
